FORT SHAFTER, July 14.—The rally meeting of the card club on Tuesday evening was a great success, there being a very good attendance. Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell was hostess, and Mrs. Alden C. Knowles was the donor of the present and the prize, which everyone present cut for. Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett, cutting the lowest card, was given this prize, a very handsome flower bowl.

The regular prize, a lovely parasol of tan and green silk, was won by Mrs. James A. Irons, she holding the highest score.

After the game the party adjourned to the reading room, where the refreshments were served, ending a very delightful evening.

Those present were Colonel and Mrs. James A. Irons, Colonel William Weigel, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Colonel William R. Dashiell, Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Captain Elmer F. Rice, Mrs. Julia E. Lohman, Capt. and Mrs. William E. Hunt, Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner, Capt. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett, Capt. and Mrs. Charles A. Lewis, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, and Dr. Harry M. Deiber.

Miss Dorothy Palmer will be hostess at a tea complimentary to Mrs. Evelyn Hodges of Schofield Barracks, on next Tuesday afternoon.

Col. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell and Mrs. Richmond N. Pearson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Emory, of Honolulu, last Monday evening.

Major William B. Cochran, Miss Louise Cochran, Lieut. and Mrs. George M. Halloran and Miss Marion Cochran expect to picnic at Waianae on Sunday.

Capt. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan entertained at one of their enjoyable dinners on Friday evening when they had dinner for six of their friends before the hard-luck party given in the Post that night.

Seated around the table, which was most attractive with its silver and glass, and its fragrant floral centerpiece, were Capt. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hartshorn, Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner, Major James A. Gallogly, Mrs. Helen MacAdam, and Capt. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan.

After dinner the party went over to the Administration building, where they entered into the pleasures of the hard-luck party.

Col. William R. Dashiell and Mrs. Richmond Pearson were the guests for dinner with Capt. and Mrs. Robert H. Peck on Tuesday evening, this day being also the anniversary of the birth of Bobby, Junior. The centerpiece for the table, around which the party were seated, was a birthday cake with a candle for each year of the young man's life.

When the cake was cut, Mrs. Dashiell found the ring in her slice, Mrs. Pearson found the thimble, and Miss Ruth Peck was the lucky holder of the coin.

Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner had as their guests at dinner on Thursday evening Capt. and Mrs. Charles A. Lewis. Parties were used at the table decorations. Bridge was the pleasure of the evening, after dinner was over.

The wedding of Capt. Eugene Robertson and Miss Serena Maddux was solemnized at St. Clement's Church, on Wilder Avenue, on Thursday evening. The bride, in her snowy robes and tulle veil, was a charming picture as she came down the aisle to meet the groom at the altar. She was given in marriage by Mr. Wyatt, Mrs. Wyatt acting as matron of honor.

Lieut. Howard P. Milligan filled the place of best man, and Capt. John Waring Simmons, of the 1st Infantry, and Lieut. Edward Fuller Witsell, of Fort Shafter, were the ushers. Rev. Tracy officiated at the ceremony.

The couple were given a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wright. Here the bride cut the cake with the sword of her husband. The couple were showered with congratulations and best wishes of the Army people present, and left after a short while for the various hotels on the other side of the island.

Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell was a luncheon guest at the home of Major and Mrs. William B. Cochran on Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas R. Harker entertained at luncheon on Thursday, complimentary to Mrs. William R. Dashiell and Mrs. Richmond N. Pearson.

Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett was a guest of the Wednesday morning bridge club which met with Mrs. Geo. M. Callender this week.

Miss Alice Palmer is one of the number of young ladies who are being entertained by Mrs. Cooper with a picnic at Kahala today.

Mrs. Frank Drake, with her small son, Rodney and Frank, were all-day guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday was hostess at a delightful bridge afternoon on Tuesday, when she entertained complimentary to some of the ladies who are leaving Fort Shafter on the next transport. The entertainment was held in the theater of the Lanika sea rooms, and no more delightful setting could be imagined than this attractive place with its easy chairs, its tables, vases of gorgeous yellow lilies, and the decorations of the theater itself. All presented a brilliant appearance when the tastefully dressed ladies gathered to enjoy the afternoon pleasures.

Those enjoying Mrs. Holliday's hospitality for cards and for tea afterwards were Miss Kenard, Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. Raymond A. Bliss, Mrs. Charles L. Lincoln, Mrs. James H. McRae, Mrs. Dorothy McRae, Mrs. Julia E. Lohman, Mrs. Robert H. Duenner, Mrs. Daniel E. Gienty, Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner, Miss Helen MacAdams, Miss Ruth Tubbs, Mrs. Charles A. Lewis, Mrs. Carl A. Hardigg, Mrs. Alden C. Knowles, Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett, Mrs. Stephen H. MacGregor, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood, Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. Richmond N. Pearson, Mrs. H. D. Niles, Mrs. Henry C. Muhlenburg, Miss Adams, Mrs.

Clarence R. Dashiell, and Mrs. George M. Halloran.

Miss Isabel Baker was one of the guests of Lieut. F. V. Schneider for dinner and the moonlight dance at the Country Club on Tuesday night.

Col. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. Richmond N. Pearson and Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell were guests of Major and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln for a swim and dinner at their beach home on Wednesday evening.

Capt. Elmer F. Rice was the dinner guest of Capt. and Mrs. Dickinson at Schofield Barracks on Sunday noon.

Capt. Carl A. Martin was the guest for dinner with Major and Mrs. William B. Cochran on Wednesday evening.

A very delightful day was spent on Sunday when Capt. and Mrs. William E. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, and William and Richard Hunt motored out to Waianae for a day on the beach.

Mrs. H. B. Niles was the guest for luncheon with Col. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell on Wednesday.

Capt. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlenburg had their luncheon guests on Thursday, Lieut. and Mrs. George M. Halloran.

At a dinner given by Miss Louise Clark of Pearl Harbor, on Tuesday evening, Miss Dorothy Palmer, Lieut. Robert H. Guyer and Lieut. Robert A. Sharrar were the guests, the party motoring out to the Country Club after dinner to enjoy the monthly moonlight dance.

Capt. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan were host and hostess on Sunday for Col. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell and Mrs. Richmond N. Pearson, when they entertained at noon dinner. Red hibiscus gave the room and table a festive air, and a very enjoyable time was spent. After the meal, a long automobile ride was enjoyed.

Capt. and Mrs. William E. Hunt are entertaining on Saturday evening with a dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. George M. Halloran, and Lieut. and Mrs. Carl A. Hardigg.

Mrs. Daniel E. Gienty was hostess for a large beach party at the Outrigger Club on last Saturday afternoon complimentary to two of her friends, who were visitors in Honolulu—Mrs. Alstrong and Mrs. Pultz. Among the other guests were Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Thomas R. Harker, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Mrs. Raymond A. Bliss, Mrs. George M. Callender, Madame Callender, Mrs. Decker, Mrs. George M. Perkins, Mrs. Robert H. Raymond, Miss Dorothy McRae, Mrs. George R. Duenner and others. After a delightful swim, tea was served on the lara.

Capt. and Mrs. Claire R. Bennett entertained in their usual happy style at dinner on Saturday evening for Col. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. Richmond N. Pearson and Col. and Mrs. Lucius L. Duffie.

Mrs. Helen MacAdam was a guest for dinner at the Moana Hotel on Tuesday evening and later attended the moonlight dance at the Country Club.

Major and Mrs. Case W. Deering entertained at a swimming and dancing party at their beautiful new home on Saturday night. Major and Mrs. William B. Cochran were among the invited guests.

Mrs. James A. Irons has been confined to her home for the past few days with a attack of illness.

Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner and Lieut. and Mrs. Clarence R. Danielson were visitors at Fort Kamehameha on Sunday.

Lieut. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood entertained on Friday evening at a charming dinner before the hop. Seated around the oval table were Lieut. and Mrs. George M. Halloran, Lieut. and Mrs. Carl A. Hardigg, Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick A. Barker, Lieut. and Mrs. Clarence R. Danielson, and Lieut. and Mrs. Rockwood. After a delicious dinner this jolly party attended the hard-luck dance at the Administration building.

Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin, Jr., Miss Betty Baldwin, Mr. Theodore A. Baldwin, 3rd, and Master Richard Baldwin were new arrivals in the Post on Thursday, having arrived on the transport Thomas to join Capt. Baldwin, who has been on the island since last March. They are occupying quarters No. 12 temporarily. Everyone welcomed them to Fort Shafter.

Capt. Carl A. Martin is occupying quarters in the Bachelors' Building until the transport sails in about ten days.

Col. William R. Dashiell has been assigned to the 43d Infantry, at Fort Douglas. It is with great regret that the people of Fort Shafter see this hospitable family leave the post.

The wedding of Capt. William E. R. Covell and Mrs. Vera Henshaw will take place on Wednesday of next week.

Mrs. William B. Cochran, Mrs. Eugene H. Hartnett, and Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell left this afternoon on the Mauna Kea for a trip to the Volcano.

Major and Mrs. Charles L. Lincoln were guests in the Post on Thursday evening.

FINE BOOKPLATES TO BE SHOWN AT UNIVERSITY CLUB NEXT WEEK

Honolulu will have an unusual opportunity next week to see specimens of splendid book plates by masters of designing in this rare art. Miss Kearns of the Honolulu Library has secured for exhibition here some of the best book plates shown at the recent annual display of the American Book Plate Society.

A. R. Gurrey, Jr., has arranged to place these on exhibition in the governors' room of the University Club for a week, beginning Monday evening at 8. There are 110 in the collection to be shown locally.

Commenting on book plates and the recent revival of interest in them, Clara Therese Evans, an expert, writes in "The House Beautiful":

"Through its annual exhibitions of contemporary bookplates the American Bookplate Society has been largely responsible for the recent revival of interest in ex libris. The avowed object of the society in holding these exhibitions has been primarily to advance the art of the modern bookplate. By offering a series of prizes for the best plates executed during the year the society has been able to induce artists to submit their work for public exhibition, thereby stimulating competition among designers and, at the same time, giving book lovers an opportunity to study a great variety of bookplate designs."

"At the annual exhibition of the American Bookplate Society, held recently at the Avery library, Columbia University, 200 bookplates designed in 1916 were exhibited, including examples of every known process—etchings, engravings, woodcuts, colored wood blocks, zinc etchings, etc. The work of more than 50 artists was represented. For the purposes of the competition the bookplates were arranged in three classes: First, personal bookplates; second, institutional bookplates; third, portrait bookplates. Three prizes were awarded, one for the most appropriate and artistic bookplate in each class. In the first class, Ralph M. Pearson, vice-president of the Chicago Society of Etchers, received the prize for a bookplate designed for the De Silvers of Brooklyn, showing the Woolworth building framed in an arch of Brooklyn bridge. Dugald Stewart Walker, known for the fantastic and idealistic style of his book illustrations, received honorable mention for a bookplate designed for Edward S. Marston. In the second class W. F. Hobson, one of our best engravers and president of the American Bookplate Society, received the prize for a plate made for the Lucy Locke Memorial Library at Webster, Mass. In the third class, Carl S. Jung, one of the foremost western designers, received the prize for a plate done for Miss Sally Hovey, an engraving on wood reproducing the Droschoth portrait of Shakespeare. "The armorial plate of John B. Stewart, a Wall street broker, was designed and engraved by Alfred J.
